

A Publication Announcement from OAK KNOLL PRESS

310 DELAWARE STREET
NEW CASTLE, DE 19720

PHONE: 800-996-2556
FAX: 302-328-7274

WWW.OAKKNOLL.COM
OAKKNOLL@OAKKNOLL.COM

John Fuller
& the Sycamore Press
A Bibliographic History

compiled and edited by Ryan Roberts

Beginning in 1968, John Fuller's Sycamore Press published some of the most influential and critically-acclaimed writers of the past half-century. Operating from a garage, the press published established authors and promoted young poets. The Sycamore Press ceased operations in 1992 but remains an excellent example of the unique qualities associated with the small press movement in England.

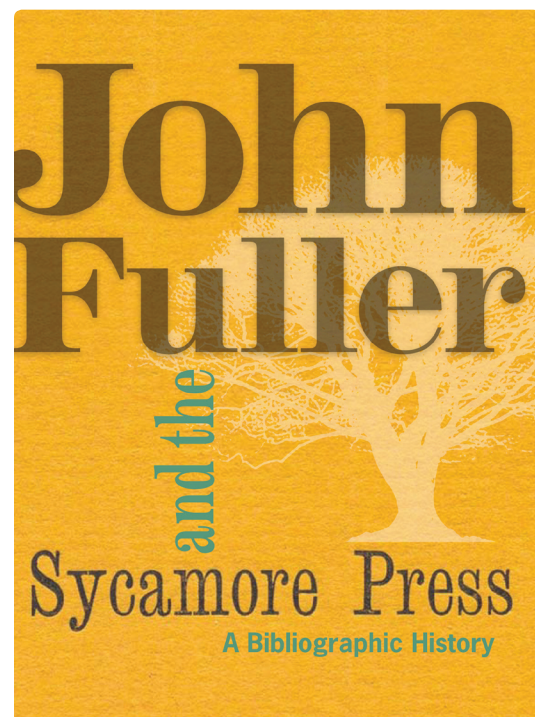

In addition to a full bibliography, the book includes an evocative foreword by John Fuller, who describes the trials and tribulations of 'garage' publishing. In an interview with the author, Fuller explains why a pamphlet of poems took almost a year to produce as he experimented with letterpress technology. Personal reflections by Sycamore Press authors illuminate the publishing process further and show what a powerful role John Fuller played in the lives of young poets.

This book is full of entertaining anecdotes about small book publishing and provides invaluable advice for small press printers.

Ryan Roberts is a Professor and Librarian at Lincoln Land Community College in Springfield, Illinois. He is co-editor of a volume of interviews with Julian Barnes and editor of a volume of interviews with Ian McEwan for the University Press of Mississippi's Literary Conversations Series.

2010, hardcover, dust jacket
6 x 9 inches, 160 pages
ISBN 9781584562818
Order No. 104085, $49.95

- Provides descriptive bibliography and images of Sycamore Press publications
- Contains anecdotes from authors such as Andrew Motion, Thom Gunn, Philip Larkin, James Fenton, and Alan Hollinghurst
- Includes a foreword by John Fuller as well as a transcribed interview with him

